

Jubilate

+ Liturgical Aids To Help Us Keep A Faithful Lent +

The Lenten Season has come to have an austere quality to it that seems appropriate to its character as a time of fast and preparation. A feast is all the more appreciated after a fast. In truth, many of the apparently austere characteristics of the season simply preserve features of early Christian worship before it was elaborated in later centuries. What follows are some suggestions for your consideration.

- ++ Keep It Simple! Remove all "extra" decorations, candles, flags, flowers, un-used furniture, etc. Focus on the cross: if it is elaborate, veil it. It makes little sense to veil a crucifix or simple cross. Use plain linen vestments and save the fancy purple and gold hangings for Advent. Many places simply leave the altar bare. The mood created should be subdued and serious.
- ++ Silent processions (no singing, just enter and leave to the organ voluntary)...
- ++ The Penitential Order, The Great Litany, or the Exhortation may be used as the entrance rite....
- ++ Omit Gloria in excelsis and Allellia until the Great Vigil of Easter...
- ++ Lent is an ideal time to introduce an increase of silence after the readings, the homily, and at the breaking of the bread....
- ++ Some parishes display the Stations of the Cross in the nave during Lent. The Book of Occasional Services provides an order of service beginning on p. 57...
- ++ Use Agnus Dei (Lamb of God) at the breaking of the Bread, or see Wonder, Love and Praise for additional settings. Remember, this action takes place in silence.
- ++ Use a prayer "over the people" (super populum) in place of the traditional blessing. See BOS, pp. 24-26.
